

and friend. The talk of Japan as a "yellow peril" is laughable." Henry Simon of J. R. Simon & Co., Importers, said:

"The rabble of every country should be rigidly excluded, but American politics makes this impossible, except in the case of coolies, who, if admitted, would have no votes. We have plenty of room in this country for desirable classes of aliens from all nations. In all important treaty ports of China, the employees, cashiers, salesmen and even financial agents are Chinese. They are wide awake and honest. Chinese of that kind should be admitted to this country without question."

"Japan has proved herself the most progressive of nations, and need ask no favors of anyone. I have traveled largely in that country, and have great admiration for the Japanese character. Once the war with Russia is over, there will no longer be any reason for anti-Japanese agitation, even on the Pacific Slope. Japan must have an outlet for her surplus millions of people, but they will never go where not wanted. Japan understands this, and is fighting successfully for an outlet nearer home."

"Had Russia been permitted to proceed unmolested in her career of oriental aggression, she would have surrounded China with a chain and shut out all nations, eventually, from open trade privileges. The war is one of existence for Japan, and at the same time she is fighting the battle for the rest of the world. The talk of 'yellow peril' is ridiculous."

HEAVY SNOW ON MARS.

Full Details are Lacking, as the Wires are Down, but Flagstaff and Cambridge Got the Tip.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A heavy fall of snow, covering the old "polar cap" and extending in the other direction as far as the southern tier of counties is reported from Mars. The information comes by way of Flagstaff, Ariz., and Cambridge, Mass. It is understood to be authentic. However, "the wires are prostrated," and full details are lacking.

Harvard College Observatory has a telegram from Prof. Lowell, who is at Flagstaff, stating that the first winter snow appeared in the Arctic region of Mars between May 18 and 19. He adds that the snow is in long, 2 degs. 30 mins., but as Flagstaff is quite a distance from Mars, it is possible that it may have been long, 2 degs. 40 mins., or even fifteen minutes of 3.

Mrs. Maud C. Taft of England Put in Mexican Prison and Fined for Assault on Mrs. Alice Jewel.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Maud C. Taft of England has been arrested here and placed in prison on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Alice Jewel of this city with a riding whip. Mrs. Taft has been living in Mexico for several years. She went to the house of Mrs. Jewel, and, as soon as the door was opened, rushed into the room where the lady was dressing and commenced thrashing her with a whip. Police intervened and took both women to the police station. The British Consul-General called at the station to do what he could for Mrs. Taft, who was, however, committed to prison. Mrs. Jewel refused to give any details, and declined to prosecute her assailant. Mrs. Taft was fined $20 which Mrs. Jewel paid. Last week this advertisement was published here:

"For Mrs. Maud Taft: I am advised that you are in Mexico. Do not know your whereabouts are, dearest, I shall forward money through British Embassy. Join us in Ostend, Belgium, for the season. All is forgotten and forgiven. I remain always your loyal sister, Lady Evelyn Goff, Lockport Castle, County Galway, Ireland."

ZEIGLER LOSES CASE.

Court Decides Two Claims of Five Thousand Dollars Each in Favor of the Doctor.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. L. C. H. Zeigler lost his fight for the fortune of $100,000 which he sought to obtain from the estate of the late Harriet G. McKivier when Judge Cutting gave his decision in the Probate Court today. The judge allowed only two claims of $5,000 each.

The judge, in his decision, held that the claim for $100,000 was not a price for services rendered to Mrs. McKivier while on the way to California and in Pasadena. The court also commented at some length on the relations existing between the physician and Mrs. McKivier and quoted numerous decisions in support of his own position in the premises. One of the $5,000 items granted was for services rendered Mrs. McKivier by the physician, and the other was said to have been given him by the deceased as an inducement to leave Chicago and accompany her to California.

Counsel for Zeigler was granted time in which to file a revised claim for actual services rendered. The court decision, it is believed, will end the battle between Zeigler, Horace McKivier, the son of the deceased, and other heirs.

GOLDFIELD BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS.

Institution Organized With Los Angeles Money Meets With Difficulties and Its Officers Try to Secure Assistance Other Banks Solid.

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Goldfield Bank and Trust Company, organized five months ago with Los Angeles capital, failed to open its doors this morning, and J. B. Young, president; J. B. Boal, cashier, and Francis L. Burton, resident manager, are missing. Young is in San Francisco, where he went three days ago, taking with him practically all of the valuable securities of the bank in an effort to raise money. Boal left by private conveyance at 10 o'clock this morning, taking nothing but his personal belongings. Burton, who precipitated the failure and got all the cash on hand, amounting to $7000, departed from camp on horseback Saturday afternoon, and is believed to be making his way out by way of Tule Cañon.

For the past ten days, the institution has been considered unsafe by those well informed, and other local banks have refused to accept checks drawn upon it except for collection. The crisis came when the Nye and Ormsby Bank, which had taken the trust company's San Francisco draft for $2000 in the course of exchange, received a wire stating that the draft had been protested. The condition was not known to the public until 9 o'clock this morning, when patrons found a note posted in the door, which read: "Bank closed until a meeting of the directors can be held."

Ten minutes later there was an angry crowd of depositors surging about the building, many armed with guns and threatening violence. A meeting of creditors was hastily called, and an investigation revealed the fact that the liabilities are something over one hundred thousand dollars, with assets not over $25,000, one-half of which are said to be of little value. Only $200 in cash was found in the vault, and the institution has nothing on deposit in San Francisco or New York. Young's draft for $2000 was found in the vault, and the institution has nothing on deposit in San Francisco or New York.

Both Young and Boal came from Los Angeles. They opened up for business in January with a capitalization of $100,000, about seventeen thousand of which was paid in. Recently, the institution erected a big stone building, costing $40,000, and said to be the handsomest banking house in the State. The payments upon this and the other building were made out of the money, but there is still $1,500 due upon it to the Continental Construction Company of Oakland, which has the first lien upon the building.

Burton became interested in making the bank fiscal agent and depository for the Lida Townsite Company, the Lida Water Works Company, the Lida Bank and Trust Company and other mining properties, in which he is interested, and acted as local counsel. Last Friday, he presented at the bank a personal check for $100,000, though his deposit amounted to only a few dollars. He exhibited a telegram signed by a man named Hale, in San Francisco, saying that a draft for $100,000 was on its way by registered letter to close a deal for the Wisconsin mine at Lida, which Burton was promoting. Boal declined to honor the check, saying he would wait until the draft arrived. Burton then went to Young, who, over the protest of Boal, took the money from the safe and paid it to Burton. This took nearly all of the cash on hand and Young departed for San Francisco to raise more.

A secret meeting of local bankers was held Saturday night, and an offer was made to Cashier Boal to advance sufficient funds to tide the bank over the present emergency, but this proffer failed, because Young had the securities with him. Boal became alarmed at the situation last night; procured a conveyance and drove to Tonopah, where he took the train for San Francisco this morning. This afternoon, a wire was sent to apprehend him, and the San Francisco authorities were requested to arrest Young.

Burton's whereabouts are unknown. His wife today received a telegram purporting to come from him in San Francisco, but a local mining man who knows Burton declares that he met him at a roadside on the road to Tule Cañon Saturday night.

Much excitement was caused by the failure here today, and threats are made that if Burton is caught in the State he will be lynched, and depositors who have lost all their money are doing their best to get it back.

The telegram which he exhibited saying that $75,000 was en route to Goldfield for his deal in the Wisconsin mine, was a bogus one, and if there ever was a deal on for the sale of the Wisconsin, it is off, as no draft has appeared. Burton's failure here today, and the investigation of his past record, and it has been positively learned that when he came here from Colorado, several months ago, he had been recently released from the penitentiary, where he served a year for obtaining money under false pretenses. The story, which is substantiated by the fact that he personally, is that about two years ago, he became involved in an altercation with another man, and was badly beaten up. Immediately thereafter he boarded a train, which, by a singular coincidence, was wrecked, and a number of passengers injured.

Burton's wound from the beating were still fresh upon him, and although he escaped from the train wreck uninjured, he claimed damages against the railroad company, which compromised with him for $25,000. Later it was learned that his wounds came from a fight, and not because of the wreck, and he was prosecuted for obtaining money under false pretenses and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Just before he was released, he bought a mining company, while still in jail, among the prison officials and cleaned up about $1500. The mine never developed.

Burton created a stir when he came into camp several months ago, organizing at Lida, thirty miles from Goldfield, townsite and waterworks companies and advertising heavily. He aroused confidence by the devotion and attention which he displayed toward his investors, and was a party to a party by a partial withdrawal of his support by reason of the fact that he was recently chosen president of Burton's Lida Bank and Trust Company. Boal's friends insist that he has done nothing criminal, and only blame him for leaving camp and not remaining to face the situation. He could not endure the embarrassment, however, and fled. The failure has brought out a number of Burton's bad checks, drawn for amounts ranging from $100 to $500 and cashed by business men and others here and in Lida.

The bank had about 250 depositors, some of them miners and small business people, who lost all they had by the failure. Deposits were accepted up to the hour of closing, Saturday. Late this afternoon, nothing had been heard from Young, Boal or Burton. Other banks have not been affected by the failure.

OTHERS PERFECTLY SOUND.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 22.—When the banking hour arrived this morning the following notice was posted on the door of the Goldfield Bank and Trust Company: "This bank will be closed until a meeting of the directors can be held."

J. B. Young, the president, left several days ago, and is believed to be in San Francisco. J. B. Boal, the cashier, left yesterday, and his whereabouts are unknown. A meeting of creditors was held today, and a committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the defunct institution. There is said to be no danger of a run on the other banks here, which are perfectly sound.

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS.

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 22.—The liabilities of the Goldfield Bank and Trust Company, which failed today, are $78,227. The assets so far discovered are $4,821, of which $4800 is in notes. There was $16 in the vault and about $200 in gold piece was found under the counter.

The most disorganized state of affairs seems to exist in the books of the bank, which failed today. Two checks drawn on the John Cook Bank here by Young, Boal and Burton, one for $5000, in favor of Francis L. Burton, promoter of the Goldfield Investment Company, were recently paid by the insolvent bank. One of these checks was dated the 23d and was paid on the 20th. It was evidently a post-dated check, which failed today, is stamped "no funds." W. R. Hale having no account there.

The bank has two cashier debit slips, one for $34,300 and another for $7,000, account stocks and bonds as collateral. Cashier James R. Hale was found at Hawthorne late tonight.

A telegram has been received from Burton in San Francisco denying that he has anything to do with the failure, and stating that President Young is there with the bank's collateral endeavoring to get assistance.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.
GUSHER LIKELY TO LOWER PRICE.FLOW OF OIL AT OLINDA IS AS GREAT AS EVER.New York Asphalt Expert Says the Bakersfield Product Has Made Pavements "The Best in the World." Trust Employees Take up Pens to Abuse Our Goods.The mad outpour of oil at the Olinda gusher continues steadily. A heavy beam has been placed over the hole so as to partially check the force of the oil. Some idea of the size and splurge of the gusher may be obtained when

C. V. Hall gusher at Olinda, 10,000 barrels a day.

It is stated that men half a mile distant had clothing ruined by the spray.
Ten thousand barrels a day is still about the average estimate of the output.The effect of this great well on the oil situation in the South is likely to be important. The Union Oil Company is handling the output under contract and with more than its pipe line will carry about taking much of the product to other companies at Whittier, Olinda and Fullerton, where it is the only big market in the field, the Standard having ceased all purchases some time since.
Thus the gusher may for a time depress prices for crude at the well, but on the other hand it demonstrates the great productivity and extent of the Orange county fields in a way that is certain to give them an even higher place than they have hitherto occupied among the oil districts of the State.

OUR ASPHALT IS BEST.

T. Hugh Boorman, the asphalt expert of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company, has received a communication from A. S. Sampson, the expert who has been in the oil business work in the borough of Brooklyn, New York City, in which he speaks in the highest terms of California's asphalt product now so managed by the importers of South American asphalt as to be officially barred from use by the street specifications in the borough and in many of the cities of the East. Mr. Sampson is a warm advocate of the California asphalt, and largely through his influence it is still admitted for use in street work in Brooklyn. He says:"I don't know as you are aware of the fact that the Bakersfield product has always been my preference over all other deposits in California, as our first distillate asphalt which I distributed to the City of New York, was laid in Brooklyn by Mr. Kelly and handled by me from early in the year 1898 and exclusively there up to 1902, and the pavement in which this product was used I consider good, if not the best, asphalt pavements that were ever laid in the world.""I will name one very prominent pavement made of this Bakersfield product to which everyone points with pride, that around the City Hall Courthouse and buildings in Brooklyn."Nelson P. Lewis, chief engineer of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of New York City, recently made a report strongly commending California asphalt, quotes Mr. Sampson therein as an authority on the subject and says he considers him in every way reliable.In a letter to Mr. Boorman, A. W.
Dow, the Washington (D. C.) engineer, who has been quoted as condemning the California product, denies having done so. He declares that the only complaint he has made is that many companies persist in sending to the market an inferior brand of goods evidently made without any knowledge of the requirements for paving work. He advises that those who desire to put out a good quality of asphalt and sell it in the eastern market should in self protection adopt a distinctive trade mark. Mr. Dow goes so far as to assert that 90 per cent. of what has been sent East has been poor, a statement which no asphalt man here will admit is borne out by the facts, although there has very likely been some inferior goods sent out, which fact he furnished the trust with ammunition for its campaign of slander.One of the latest moves of the trust to have its employees write articles for technical journals in which they pore as experts and standard authorities on the subject of paving work, the California's product and laud to the skies the Venezuela and Trinidad asphalt, adding alleged scientific arguments to back their assertions, and ignoring such practical demonstrations as those adduced by Mr. Sampson.

KERN REFINERY STARTS.

The National Oil Refining and Manufacturing Company last Friday started work and made the first run. The capacity is 750 barrels. Asphaltum will be shipped under contract to Chicago.
The plant is said to have cost about $400,000. The company's holdings consist of fifteen acres and a large warehouse and coopers building, a 50,000-barrel reservoir, tankage, together with office buildings and dwellings for employees have been erected in addition to the refinery proper.

FIRST DOUBLE MEET.

Vernon Avenue and Thirty-ninth-street Basketball Teams Winners in Opening Contest.Vernon Avenue and Thirty-ninth-street basketball teams—hip! hip! hurrah!These are the winners in the first double meet between four of the six grammar school teams who have entered the competition for The Times trophy.Vernon Avenue defeated the Thirty-ninth Street team by the close score of 24 to 21, and Thirty-ninth defeated Washington by a still closer score of 24 to 21.Both games were fought to a finish, every inch of the ground contested bythe ambitious young players, but the game between Thirty-ninth and Washington showed the fastest play and the keenest excitement.So closely were the teams matched that one could hardly say, "This was the best team," of any of the four on the Thirty-ninth street court where the two games were played.The results were surprises in both cases. The Thirty-ninth street team had defeated the second academy team of the U. S. C. and had won something of a reputation, but their play yesterday whole did not compare favorably with the work of the other teams, and they had the advantage of a home court.The Vernon team has two fine players in the McVay sisters. Helen Mc-Vay is a star goal thrower. She has a way of slamming the ball against the net so that it rebounds into the basket.
She threw ten baskets for her side yesterday, all of them field goals, besides two free throws. The play of the Vermont team was marred by the great number of fouls committed.The lineup for the two teams was:
Vernont, Helene McVay and Elsie Fibbert, forwards; Julia Weber, center; Anna Helian (c) and Laura McVay, guards; Timothy Street, well-traveled thoroughfare north and west of Sierra Madre, but a short distance from the main mountain road to Wilson's Post.The new line will be completed probably within ninety days, according to a statement made yesterday by General Manager Schindler, therefore, the first of September should see the almost total eclipse of the old stage line that for years has connected the Santa Fe Railroad station at Santa Anita with the village of Sierra Madre and the base of the mountain trails beyond.The route from the Colorado-street terminus of the present line will be north and east to Central avenue Sierra Madre, proceeding north on that thoroughfare to a point near the schoolhouse and postoffice, and then branching off northwesterly to the mountains. The total length of the expansion will be about three and one-half miles to shipping the same.When the line is opened it will be possible to reach Sierra Madre direct from the Los Angeles main line at San Marino and runs to Lamanda Park, or by way of the line that reaches La-munda Park by a straight run east on Colorado street.One effect of the Sierra Madre extension, it is believed, will be to attract to the mountains many who are fond of climbing the trails afoot or on the backs of burros, but who have declined the pleasure because of the difficulty in reaching the foot of the trails, especially those that lead to Wilson's Peak.

NEW MAIL TRAINS.

SALT LAKE ROUTE IS OPEN.

The first through mail to go over the new Salt Lake line from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City and intermediate points left last night on the regular 7:30 o'clock train. The first westbound mail, which left Salt Lake City on Sunday evening, will reach here at 7 o'clock this morning.Four mail cars will be used in the regular daily service between the two cities, one arriving each morning and one departing each evening, carrying the mail for the various towns along the railroad line, and the regular connection with numerous stages that will serve the new mining camps in Nevada, as well as a great deal of back country.The new mail service, which will be operated by the Pacific Electric Railway, affecting principally the operation of cars between Los Angeles and beach points, will go into effect next Monday.A large number of cars will be added to the beach service, while direct cars will be placed in operation from Los Angeles to Huntington Beach and Alamitos Bay, many of the connections for which have been made heretofore by transferring at Los Angeles or Long Beach to the Bay to the Pacific thirteen direct cars each way daily, while Huntington Beach will have twelve instead of the four that now are running.WILL REARRANGE RATES ON OIL.SANTA FE AGENT ANNOUNCES POLICY IN KANSAS.Will Confer With Producers as to What Markets They Wish to Reach.
Pulman Car Company Refuses to Answer to Charges of Excessive Rates in Sleeping Cars.(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P. M.) TOPEKA (Kan.) May 22.—The Santa Fe will meet the oil producers of Kansas and rearrange the freight rates on oil. General Freight Agent Koonits made the following announcement today of the company's intentions.The rates will be brought out at a conference, which will doubtless be held within a week or ten days. At the preliminary conference with the oil men, the producers were asked to prepare a statement showing what market they wished to reach. The producers have been recently preparing this statement. We cannot intelligently promulgate a tariff till we learn what the producers want to reach with their crude oil shipments.In the meantime, we have been going over the situation, and have prepared figures so that at the coming conference, we should be able to tell the producers what can be done for them as soon as they make known to us what markets they want to reach."

PRAIRIE COMPANY'S WORK.

INDEPENDENCE (Kan.) May 22.—In an interview today, Superintendent W. F. Gates of the Prairie Gas and Oil Company stated that, notwithstanding recent publications concerning enlargement of the company's facilities, conditions in the oil fields remain practically unchanged. The Prairie Gas and Oil Company is running about twenty thousand barrels of oil a day in Kansas and the Indian Territory, and storage tanks, material for which has been on the ground for some time, continuing to be erected in the Territory.
Drilling operations are almost at a standstill in Kansas, and are becoming less in the Indian Territory.

PULLMAN COMPANY ALOOF.

WONT ANSWER TO KANSAS.

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 22.—The Pullman company has refused to make answer to a complaint before the State Board of Railroad Commissioners regarding excessive sleeping-car charges.
The company contends that the board lacks authority to regulate its rates.
This contention is based on the fact that the clause in the old railroad law giving the board control over the Pullman company is not covered in the title to the act.

The Activity Continues

The healthy business and building activity continues at Huntington Beach without the slightest cessation. Vast sums are being expended in establishing the high-class improvements that are required to meet the demands of the rapidly increasing population. Choice residence and business sites are being quickly taken up by shrewd investors and home-seekers who are cognizant of the glowing future this town has before it. The completion of improvements, the Methodist Conference, the G. A. R. convention and the great summer demand for improved beach property, are conditions that are bound to increase the present prices of property.TODAY WE OFFER

noon at 3 o'clock on Monday the teams of Occident and St. Vincent Colleges are scheduled to play. The game is what promises to be the best of amateur baseball played this season. The championship lies between the two teams, each having defeated all other teams in the league as well as beating the other in a previous game. St. Vincent's College has won the championship for several years and is expected to fight to be the champion again.

Ball Players Die.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—"Bat tling" Nelson of Chicago made his first appearance in the prize ring in this city today, and proved a rather easy victim for A. Attell of San Francisco.
It was the old story of a champion boxer against a fighter. Attell's opponent proved too much for Nelson, and in the first four of the six rounds of the fight the Californian battered the other man at will. In the fifth round, Attell's strength began to wan, but he was able to hold Nelson down.

It was a good, fast bout from start to finish. The way Attell started in, battered as though Nelson would not be six rounds, but what he lacked in power he made up in gameness and he was able to take punishment. All the first four rounds Attell battered Nelson in the face and in the fifth round he was able to hold Nelson down.

In the second and third rounds, Nelson led, he caught Attell several times hard on the jaw, doing any damage. In the fourth round, Nelson sent Attell to the floor, but the latter was up in an instant. The fifth round was slightly in favor of Nelson, and he was able to hold Nelson down.

At the time the men stepped into the ring, it looked as though they would not meet. There was a hitch weighing in. Attell weighed in at 145 lbs., but Nelson refused to get on the scale, claiming his contract did not allow it. Attell refused to go on, and the management decided to put on a different fight. Nelson looked to weigh about 134 to 136 pounds.

today awarded the July fight per be an end to the hopes that Jimmy "Battling" Nelson would be able to fight on that month. Levy states that he cannot afford to pull the Brit-Nelson fight, as Brit is so much on the side, besides the fact that the fight goes to the fighters, there is nothing left for the club.

TACOMA, 4; Los Angeles, 2.
It is high time Mike Fisher quit baseball. One so favored by the fates should give his luck a chance—for quicker action—not "hide his light under a bushel" in the slow, day-to-day drag of the managerial field.

On yesterday's public form, Tacoma's portly prophet of the national game is advised to buy "wildcat" mining stocks or play the races. Backed by such a bland assortment of the smiles of fortune as that which apparently beams upon the humorous gentleman from the Far North, it is hard to see where Michael Angelo could lose at any game now known to man, whatever the percentage against him.

Some of the ultra-scientists maintain there is not much luck in baseball—that brilliant playing enacts the principal part nowadays. When a ball team wins such a game as yesterday's—makes four hits and turns every one into a run; is outbatted by half, and still, nevertheless, wins, it is split hairs—the fans are likely to win the other eye and whisper that good old Shakespearean adage:

"Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them."

Certainly it was thrust upon the vis itors yesterday if ever a victory was.

MARCONI'S WIRELESS REPORTS OCEAN RACE.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Ameri can Yacht Atlantic, one of the contestants in the trans-Atlantic race for the Emperor William Cup, was sighted late Saturday night 496 miles due east of Sandy Hook. She was heading east, with fair weather and fresh south winds, and was mak ing a little better than 7½ knots per hour. The Atlantic was sighted by the steamers Cedric, Minnetonka and Noordam. Marconi wireless mes sages were sent from all the steamers to the Associated Press. To have reached the point at which she was sighted, the Atlantic must have aver aged more than 200 miles per day, or more than 8 knots an hour.

The following telegrams were re ceived by the Associated Press. They were transmitted from the steamers by Marconi wireless to the Marconi station on Long Island and Nantucket, and then to New York:

"STEAMER CEDRIC, via Noordam a disastrous maul on which Graham's previous single was turned into a tally.

In the ninth Nordyke and Mc the fouling of the ball on a sharp play by Smith. Graham swatted a low day cutter through short, and Tacoma's final run was chalked up on the board.

Capt. Dillon tried hard to make a Garrison finish of it in the last half, going to bat in place of Toman. Smith a little heart-to-heart talk by Umpire on second, from whence he scored on a rousing three-bagger to the left field by Brashers. Cravath walked, but the next three men, including Capt. Dillon, could not get another pit Honolulu is now getting its dose of the Jap. The Pacific Coast will get it next.

If liquor really were liquor and not so adulterated that it has become plain poison, perhaps there would be less talk about it.

The new Russian Ambassador seems to be a fine fellow. In the words of Bill Nye, "we are glad to be thrown in his midst."
The effort of Mr. Fairbanks to re-auscultate the office of Vice-President goes on bravely. Let us encourage him all we can.

Russia is sending thousands of Poles to the front. They are good fighting men and Oyama will find it no easy task to chop them down.

The ghost of murdered Draga still walks in bloody Helgrade, and uneasy lies the iron crown of Serbia on the head of Peter, the red-handed King.

Memorial Day is a holy day, not a holiday. Those persons who contemplate participating in sports on that day ought to bear this fact in mind.

If the new "nakedness" cult should catch on in Los Angeles, you can absolutely bank on it that more sight-seers will come to this town than ever.

Another thing to be thankful for is that at none of the meetings has anyone yet attempted to recite "The lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine."

When those eastern Knights of Columbus reach California they will wonder why the great Christopher made the mistake of discovering America on the wrong side.

The world is going at a fast pace, but there are still a few people who, by persistently reading the evening newspapers, manage to avoid being carried along with the rush.

We move that the new Panama navy—consisting of a steam yacht and six gunboats—create the President of Colombia an honorary admiral, just to show that the cruel past is washed out.

If the temperance crusade shall continue without someone getting up to sing "Father, dear father, come home with me now," we may get through the campaign without bloodshed.

If liquor is to be sold at all, the place to sell it is in a saloon. When a man is seen going into a saloon, he can't put up the argument that he does so for the purpose of buying sticking plaster or a keg of milk.

The man who contemplates the probability that he may soon find himself unable to get into a saloon in this town and get a drink, has got to be a connoisseur. He can buy it by the bottle and take it home with him for a bed-fellow.

If it be true that young John Rockefeller disapproves of the methods by which Standard Oil money was made, will he follow the advice that Christ once gave to another young man: "Give all thou hast to the poor, and follow Me."

There is no occasion for hysterics in connection with the coming anti-saloon election. The subject should be calmly and deliberately considered, and every voter should cast his ballot according to his honest convictions after he has carefully considered the subject.

The promoters of the new movement in this city to return to the simple garments of Adam and Eve, are both eloquent and picturesque in their advocacy of the cause. They designate clothes as the "Satanic shrubbery of false modesty." Anybody who can beat that needn't be long out of a job.

IS THIS THE TWENTIETH CENTURY OR THE MIDDLE AGES?

TURBINE VS. PISTON.
Is the turbine engine destined to supersede the reciprocating or piston engine for ocean navigation? This is a question which is puzzling seafarers; men not a little, and it is interesting the manufacturers of steamships even more vitally. The forms of motor have their advocates, who are earnest in the belief that their favorite motor will win in the end. The question is still very far from final decision. In all probability, it will never come nearer a "final decision" than that the reciprocating engine will be used for some work to which it is peculiarly adapted, while the rotary engine will attain to a wide field of usefulness in which it has demonstrable advantages over the reciprocating form of motor.

The turbine engine has been in practical use for a much shorter period of time than its rival, the piston engine. At first it was looked upon with considerable suspicion, being so radical a departure from the type which had come to be regarded as the most efficient steam motor. But the turbine engine has won its way into favor very rapidly since, in its improved forms, its efficiency has been completely demonstrated. Practically its first application to ocean navigation on a large scale was in the case of the Allan ocean liner Victoria, which arrived at Halifax recently on her maiden voyage. Before the sailing of the Victoria, much doubt was expressed as to its success on the long voyage. While the preliminary tests had been fairly successful, they had not been sufficiently so to allay all doubts, and it was with no little anxiety that her owners and her builders watched the outcome.

The Victoria was built for the Liverpool-Montreal route, but as the St. Lawrence River was filled with ice, she landed at St. John on April 1, carrying 1500 passengers. The vessel's log showed that she had traveled a distance of 2519 miles between Montreal and Halifax. The time was seven days and twenty-two hours, and the daily runs were as follows, 294, 288, 233, 305, 352, 383, 218 and 355 miles, respectively. The behavior of the vessel was in the main satisfactory, in the heavy seas, and she traveled particularly fast in head seas. There was much adverse weather, and the vessel was driven about two hundred miles further south, on account of heavy seas, than the usual winter course. Speed had to be slackened several times on account of priming in the boilers. Capt. McNicholl, at the end of the voyage, expressed entire satisfaction with the turbine system, and declared his confidence that the Victoria will easily average 17 knots an hour after she shall have made a few voyages.

The most noticeable feature of the voyage, from the passengers' point of view, was the absence of vibration. The ship moved much more steadily than ships ever move when driven by reciprocating engines. This is a feature which will be a strong argument in favor of turbine-driven steamers, for the throbbing and jar of the ordinary reciprocating engine is one of the unpleasant features of an ocean voyage. Other vessels of the type of the Victoria are projected, and it is not impossible that the turbine will in time become the most favored form of motor for ocean navigation, as its advantages are many in comparison to its disadvantages.

ALL NOT GOLD THAT GLITTERS.
A few years ago it was all stocks. Many of us still possess enough samples of those handsomely lithographed sheets to paper the walls of a den. Today, the fashion is different. It is now gold mines that are held out to the reader of the daily papers as a royal road to wealth, and he sure that many of the intelligent readers of the Times who were beaten in wildcat oil stocks will once more suffer the penalty of folly in buying mining stock for a few cents a share, which is going to be advanced on paper to "seven cents or more a share, within a few many days."

The general ignorance of the public in regard to mining is stupendous. Such ignorance might be expected in a pastoral community, where the people have never had a chance to see a mine, and suppose that the gold is either hidden under the surface of the ground, in the shape of nuggets, or dug out of the earth with flat shovels, but surely those who dwell in this western mining region should have some little conception of what a mine is.

They say that the whole country around the world is studded with mines, miles or more. This means a princely income to the recorder, if he is paid by fees. That is about all it will mean to anybody, in the way of profit, except in a very few cases. The public should understand that mineral runs in veins. If you happen to be twenty feet off the richest mineral vein in the world you might about as well be on the moon, 200,000 miles away, from any advantage you may derive from that prospectus, unless you can succeed in catching some sucker to whom your conscience will permit you to sell a gold brick. Again, take the absurdly exaggerated stories of rich ore that appear in the papers from time to time. When we remember that it will cost a ton, and give signs of permanency at a depth of a hundred feet, is an immense big thing, for which millions would be glad to compete, we may begin to realize the absurdity of these stories of veins twenty or thirty feet wide, of gold ore that will yield $50 a ton, and give signs of permanency at a depth of a hundred feet, is an immense big thing, for which PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

MAXON OPERAHOUSE. Barney

Bernard, who went away from Los ange a burlesquer, has returned a genuine actor of substantial merit.

He is primarily a very human funster, and there is pathos as well as merriment in his lines.

His play, which received its first local presentation at the Mason last evening, is called "The Financier," and has been written for Harry D.

Burnbank, who has another play on at the Burbank this week. "The Financier" is evidently built up on lines suggested by Wardfield's famous Hebraud study, "The Auctioneer," and it cannot approach the first play, even with Bernard's frequent and evident interludes—a very good vehicle for the portrayal of an entire amusement.

The Financier is a Jew of middle age, a Tiddish Jew, who has climbed to wealth but comfortable fortune through an arduous endeavor. He is represented as owning a group of flats, with which he parts to buy a heavy block of stock in a supposedly rich South African diamond mine. The mine is finally found to be worthless, and the Jew is in the unfortunate owner while he is celebrating his twentieth wedding anniversary.

It takes up two acts, and there are three in the drama. The last scene is in a humble little tailor shop, where, working against keen competition, the financier, the Jew, is trying to make a humble living for his little family. The man who originally used him to invest comes in at the picture, and says that he has and a man willing to pay $10,000 for a share of stock the Financier holds.

The Jew is built upon seriousness and dignity, and despite the stagnation of family, friends and business associates, holds on until the last moment, when word comes that the mine is in reality worth $150,000.

It may be imagined, Barney Bernard is "the show." Bernard is an actor of genuine ability. He has recognized that in all comedy worth the name, humor is built upon seriousness. His portrayal is not a caricature, but the sketch of a careful character studied. Not once, during the entire progress of the play, did Bernard react to any one of the cheap flash tricks used by alleged "Hebrew comedians." There were no fanciful moments of his hands, no feigned nasal intonation of voice, no poor little effects of any sort pulled in for their own sake.

There are several scenes of pathos in the play, and in all his work the actor shows great improvement during the few months that he has been away from Los Angeles. He was called enthusiastically before the curtain at the beginning of the first act, made a speech, and for the rest of the show, it is in the line of the ordinary. The plot is good, the parts are well taken in the play, and the action is of interest.

rona calf.

show its strength. The play is a pathetic one—a series of "living pictures," so to speak, from the unhappy lives of two degenerates, one a kleptoman and the other a dipsomaniac.

The "girl" in the case is their young daughter, tender and loving and true, who does all in her power to save them both. Her success would have been most problematical, had not the "Judge" appeared on the scene.

Margaret Langham, who now fills the part of the girl, is a fine actress, and her performance is a personal triumph. There were moments last night when she held her audience breathless by her reserved intensity. Her faults were those that one expects to find in an actress whose experience has not been extensive—a few inconsistencies of interpretation, some awkwardness, a slight lack of repose, and no very great play of facial expression. But when all is said, it must be conceded that Miss Langham has in talent and temperament. We shall await other work from her with expectant interest.

Joseph Galbraith is admirable as Judge Charris, the large-hearted, fair-minded, clear-headed young westerner, who has the temerity and good sense to love the girl first sight when he comes across the right girl. Thomas Oberle is strong in the part of the ruined Stanton; he invests the character with dignity and pathos, and does not overact. Agnes Ranken, too, as Mrs. Stanton, the unfortunate mother, does her part well, and her best work was yet given us.

In fact, the entire company rise to the demand made on them in "The Girl and the Judge." Fanchon Everhart as Mrs. Brown, and Master Marshall as Ike, Ranken, are the largest players of the otherwise somber play. All three seem to be cast for parts after their own hearts, for in stage business make-up, and they are irresistible.

ORPHEUM. It is about a year since Mine, Slapoffski made her American debut at the Orpheum, heralded as

"England's Greatest Prima Donna."

Last night she returned, and was welcomed heartily by Orpheumites, for it is not every day that a singer of Slap-offski's caliber is to be heard in valuable. Her numbers were "L'Ardis," "Swanee River" and the "Flower Song" from Faust, and each was received enthusiastically. There is something about Mine Slapoffski besides mere voice and technique which never fails to win her audience. Whether it is temperament or monology or dash, or any of the other hundred and one things which go to make up an artist, she has it, and puts it into her work, and the effect is magnetic.

Lavender and Thomson are also new this week. They bring an amusing skit called "A Touchdown," which is light in construction, but contains a good many funny lines. Les Dahlias, Parisian dancers, are novel and entertaining.

MISS BONNYE ANDERSON, one of the belles of the Los Angeles society, will arrive home on Thursday. She has been one of the most popular girls in college, and has taken part in a number of farces, where she had much success. Miss Anderson is a daughter of Mrs. A. H. Anderson of No. 1348 Alvarado Terrace, and a sister of Harry Anderson. She is a dainty and attractive girl, with great coils of golden hair and large brown eyes.

At the close of the games a luncheon was served and prizes were awarded. The first prize, a hand-painted vase, fell to Miss Clara French, and the second, a daintily thimble plate, was won by Mrs. Page. Those who enjoyed the

WORKING FOR PICO HEIGHTS.

Women Accomplishing Great Things There.

Street Paving, Lights and Park Their Aim.

Civic Federation Supporting the Movement.

To pave West Pico street from the end of the present paving to the city limits.

To install a sewer system underneath it.

To secure a public park for Pico Heights.

To get adequate lighting for that nightily region of darkness west of Vermont avenue and North of Pico street.

These are a few of the things that the women of Pico Heights have undertaken to do. Next that they anticipate going forth with picks and shovels to actually perform the manual labor required for these undertakings, but they are pledged to see these improvements in their section carried to a finish by those in whose hands lies the power.

The Civic Federation of Pico Heights has set about this work of accomplishment in the most businesslike and systematic manner, and judging by the success that has attended their previous undertakings, it is safe to predict that these capable women will follow their way, and without the grass growing under anybody's feet.

OBSTACLES SURMOUNTED.
"You cannot pave Pico street," a number of people declared when the women diplomatically broached the subject; "the property owners will not sign the petition; it costs too much. The City Engineer will not put in the sewer under it," and so on and so on.

But the property owners are signing the petition, which was prepared by the Civic Federation. Many of them are most anxious to do it, and more than that, the business men of the Pico Heights district have pledged themselves to pay for the circulation of the petition by a man who has been especially employed for the purpose.

The president of the Pico Heights Civic Federation, Mrs. M. J. Taylor, is showing a forbidding countenance to the committee from the Civic Federation who went to see him about the laying of a sewer under Pico street, a preliminary to the paving proposition, said:

"I will see that a sewer system is put in on Pico street before the paving is done, and I will do all that lies in my power to hurry it up."

The president of the Pico Heights Civic Federation has done much of the actual work of creating sentiment for the paving of Pico street and the other projects to be pushed. The president just re-elected for the third term is Mrs. H. F. Taylor, and she is a power in the district, and these things are generally done for her.

Some of the things that could be done for that part of the city.

THEY NEED A PARK.
Some one has said that Pico Heights would be named "Roadside" for the rising generation is more in evidence there than in any other part of the city, or at least it seems so to the casual visitor. This is one of the reasons that the residents feel justified in asking for a park.

Envious eyes have been cast by the Civic Federation upon a strip of land containing from fifteen to twenty acres, which is owned by the Rosedale Cemetery Association, and which runs north of Sixteenth street and east of Sepulveda.

It is wooded like some beautiful castle close, and would make an ideal park.

The park will be presented to the City Council at the same time that the other petition is sent in, and all residents of Pico Heights will be asked to sign the request.

WANT LIGHTS, TOO.
The lighting proposition has also been carefully considered by the women of Pico Heights. They have already secured the placing of one electric light on Dewey avenue, but they want only five lights in the thickly-populated district west of Pico and north of Hoover streets, and there is much to be done.

A map of the district, with the points where lights are imperative to the safety of the neighborhood, is being prepared by the Civic Federation, and the Council and the Federation feels that no more will be necessary.

The second anniversary of the formation of the Pico Heights Civic Federation was recently celebrated, and on that occasion Dr. Francis Percival spoke of the need of lights for that section, and rehearsed his difficulties as a physician driving through such Egyptian blackness.

A public reading-room was the first effort. It cost the federation $25 a month, and finally the members were instrumental in getting a branch of the public library located there in place of the reading-room. The unsightly hedge which was at the end of the Berendo street, cutting the street itself down to a width of thirty feet, was removed through the efforts of the Pico Heights Civic Federation.

The trees that were in the habit of disappearing were filled up, and many other improvements made through their efforts. The palm trees that now line Sepulveda street, and the beautiful camphors along the Hobson street, were planted on the first Arbor Day by the federation.

In honor of Miss Ruby Prossie, who, with her mother, Mrs. H. M. Prossie, will depart soon for the East, a little farewell party was given at the home of Miss Beulah Wilkinson of No. 525 Maple avenue. Games were participated in by the merry crowd and refreshments were served in the dining-room. Piano solos were given by Miss L. Nickerson, Mrs. Seccombe and the Bishop. Those present were: Ethel De Vos, Ilo Bishop, Marian Stewart, Doris Stewart, Mary Arnold, Christine Levy, Hazel Cobb, Josephine Louison, Mary Seccombe, Will Nickerson and Mrs. and Mrs. Nickerson and Mrs. Bellinger.

Last Recital.
The Intermediate class, Dobinson School of Expression, gave the last recital of the school term Friday evening in the auditorium. The stage was beautifully decorated with mustard and fern, and the reception hall in crimson roses and white flowers. A enthusiastic class of youngsters eclipsed all other classes of the year in the originality of their programme.

The class spirit is very strong, especially at this season, nearing the graduation time, and they were ably seconded in an effort to make it an evening long to be remembered by the seniors and juniors. The class songs were especially attractive. The audience was large and enthusiastic.

Orange growing in Southern California has been a lousy development and it is little more than in its infancy. Ten years ago only 2,000 cars of oranges were shipped to the markets of the East and the growers thought they were doing well. Before another ten years it would be an average of 10,000 cars to move the crop. The Southern California oranges are gradually finding their way into the markets of Europe, and within another decade Southern California may be furnishing oranges for the world.

WHAT IT BRINGS. The Valencia is the coming variety for the last half of the season, beginning June 1 and lasting until November 1. Seven or eight years ago the Valencia was a stranger to most of the markets, but this was because there was so few of them grown. The crop averages from 2,000 to 3,000 cars yearly. The Valencia, however, may still be regarded as a luxury, on account of its high price. No other variety offers a more inviting field for expansion, and as the demand is constantly increasing the growers can be relied upon to fulfill the demand. They are even now preparing to do this, and the day is not far distant when California will be furnishing 10,000 cars of Valencias alone.
